The design of Hudson evokes the majestic winter ice cracks of Canada's Hudson Bay, showcasing the pristine purity and austere beauty of nature. Its pure white base, interlaced with graceful gray veining, resembles the winding natural patterns on frozen ice sheets, with each crack telling a story of winter's depth and eternity. The veining flows like the pulse of a glacier—profound and dynamic—capturing the fleeting beauty of an icy world. With its delicate texture and harmonious tones, Hudson transports you to a tranquil icefield, where the serene essence of nature comes alive.
